Defending the taxpayer

*"I will fight to cut taxes,
reduce needless government regulations, promote small business and protect your freedoms."*

Dear Voter,

As a retired military officer, professor, former international businessman, author, international diplomat and State Representative serving Allegheny and Washington Counties, I defend the taxpayer's freedoms every day.

While others talk about lowering taxes, I have always fought tax increases, and have actually cut taxes at the school district level. In the state legislature I helped produce six balanced budgets with no tax increases. Send me to Washington D.C. and I will battle to rein in government spending and defend the taxpayer.

While others claim to support government reform, I have pushed bills that privatized the liquor stores, drug tested welfare recipients, banned gifts to elected officials and forced claimed budget savings into a taxpayer escrow account. In Washington, I will tackle the corrupt system and help our president drain the swamp.

While others say they believe in smaller government, I have proven so by voting three times to reduce the size of the PA State legislature. In Washington, I will identify and target wasteful federal programs for elimination.

While others say they support veterans, I AM a Veteran and have supported a variety of veteran's issues on the Veterans Affairs Committee. Send me to Washington and I will work tirelessly to mend the tragic VA system until our veterans receive the medical care they deserve, while rebuilding our depleted military, affording them the ability to fight and WIN wherever we send them.

While others underestimate the terrorist threat, I've seen it firsthand, fighting terrorism around the world and facing Al Qaeda in Iraq. I will never allow our country to acquiesce to the leading state sponsor of terrorism; Iran, in order to appease them.

While others pay lip service to our dependence on foreign energy, I have always advocated for a multi-faceted energy policy that includes PA's most abundant and reliable energy sources – coal and natural gas. Send me to the U.S. Senate to bring common sense to environmental regulations so they protect our environment while promoting our energy industry.

While others pretend to protect gun rights, I am pro-Second Amendment. I lead the struggle to pass the Castle Doctrine so citizens could defend themselves in their homes. In the Senate I will continue those struggles.

While others talk about protecting life, I am pro-life. I'll never compromise in defending the lives of our most helpless citizens who cannot speak for themselves.

We can only prevail over the enemies of freedom with your help. We need people in government who are there for the right reasons, not to further their own agendas or those of their families' or special interests. You need a strong voice in the U.S. Senate. I WILL be that voice!

God bless,
